V. Updates, Reports, Comments

- a. Arc of Indiana (Utility Assistance Program): Jill Smith, Consumer Supports Grants Administrator, reported on the new program that the ARC of Indiana began in December of 2015 to help families that are in utility debt over a two-month period. She provided and distributed flyers with an application discussing the program. The new Utility Assistance Program served 92 families in the first month of operating and 70 families in the month of January 2016. There are currently 48 ARC of Indiana Chapters. Their website provides podcast for visual impaired persons. Amber O'Haver stated that she will include information about the program to the INSILC website. Jill Smith was asked about other services offered through the ARC and discussed the Trust Program assisting individuals with disabilities to maintain their benefits. The Arc Network program assist individuals in obtaining/maintaining benefits. The ARC of Indiana receives averages on average 200 phone calls a month requesting information and resources for individuals as well as transitional needs. The ARC of Indiana is funded through grants and self-driven income.
- b. Executive Director Report: Amber O'Haver reported researching and reviewing the INSILC bylaws, policies and procedures as some of her duties performed for INSILC. She attended January's VR Commission meeting and was asked after the meeting by the VR Commission Chair to join the Commission and has already completed an application to submit. She reported she'd provide at March's meeting current SPIL tasks that have been completed and can still be realistically completed by the end of this fiscal year and end of 3-year SPIL, Sept. 30, 2016. She also reported on a SPIL 2017-2019 development timeline for a draft to be ready to submit to the Feds by June 30. She is working on finalizing Council Reimbursement Claim forms that will be reviewed at the March meeting. Amber O'Haver reports that the Independent Living Research Utilization (ILRU) will assist in the support for the redevelopment on Operational and Fiscal Policies and Procedures whom are the same entity that provided TA to the SILC via Conference Call back in July 2015. She is also currently looking for possible office space and continuing to update and reform the council website to INSILC.org.
